COMPLAIN OF STRAY BULLETS. Farmers Near the Creedmoor Rifle Range Ask for Protection.

Farmers who live near the State Rifle Range at Creedmoor, L. 1, have appealed to the Queens county authorities to protect them and their families against the annual fusillade of stray bullets that sweep the plains in the rear of the ranges as soon as target practice is begun by the National Guardsmen. It is said that the old backing of the targets is not deep enough to stop the flight of bullets from modern rifles. The ranges are divided into two sections. The two and three hundred yard ranges are on the southwest side and the five and six hundred and one thousand yard ranges are on the northeast side. It is the long range division agains which complaint is made. Daniel Staddler, who which complaint is made. Daniel Staddler, who owns a farm in the rear, asserts that he and his entire family are compelled to take to cover as soon as shooting on the range begins. Farmer John Hendrickson, who also owns land in the rear, asserts that puffs of dust are raised at different points of his field by spent bullets.

A delegation of farmers from that section visited the District Attorney's office in Long Island (ity yesterday and asked for protection of some sort against the bullets.

The matter is being considered by the Queens county Grand Jury, and it is probable that it will make a presentment advising the rebuilding and strengthening of the breastworks in the rear of the targets.

proposes to lay before the Board of Public Improvements and the Municipal Assembly soon The Board of Public Improvements has already adopted a resolution providing for the asphalting of Broadway from Fourteenth street to Forty-second at a cost of $290,000. President Coogan estimates that it would cost $363,000 to asphalt the roadway from Fourteenth street to the Battery and about $170,000 from Forty-second street to Fifty-ninth.

Mr. Coogan said yesterday that the Astors, Rhinelanders and Vanderbilts were in favor of the improvement. He intends to send out a letter to all the Broadway property owners, asking their views on the project. If it should be carried out, Mr. Coogan thinks, much of the business traffic which now uses Fifth avenue would be turned into Broadway. From the Circle north Broadway and Eighth avenue are asphalted.

OIL SPRINKLER PLEADS INSANITY. He's Not so Very Crazy.

John Wunderlich, the piano tuner, accused o spoiling the dress of Mrs. David Dull of Meadville, Pa., by squirting oil on it on Fortieth street, was arraigned in the Jefferson Market court yesterday on a charge of malicious mischief. Lawyer Lowenstein, who appeared for the prisoner, waived examination, saying that his client was a poor, half-witted fellow, who should be pitied and not condemned. "Oh, he is not so very crazy," said Mrs. Dull. "I think he is a very bad man who wants to do halury to people that have not harmed him at all. And whatever, his motives were he should." all. And whatever his motives were he should be prevented from doing to others what he did to me. This experience has cost me $150."

The Magistrate held Wunderlich in $500 bail for trial. Wunderlich himself, said that his mind had become unbalanced through too much eigarette snoking.

HESS-GODDARD PIGHT IN COURT. Justice Fitzgerald Asked to Set Aside the Election of Hess.

Capt F Norton Goddard, through Lawye John Hays Hammond asked Justice Fitzgerald of the Supreme Court yesterday to set aside the proceedings of the Twelfth Congress District Republican Convention of April 5, in so far as they declared Charles A. Hess elected a delegate to the National Convention Hess had obtained a temporary injunction from Justice Freedman of the Supreme Court two days before the convention restraining the Custodian of Primary Records from certifying on the roll of delegates two Goddard men whose election was disputed. The Custodian of Primary Recoads did put the names on the roll nevertheless, the work of the troops was arduous. There but John Sabine Smith, temporary chairman were numerous attacks and skirmishes, and of the convention, having been informed of the injunction, refused to call the roll as supplied to him and thereby gave the convention to Hess. On the return day of the injunction it to him and thereby gave the convention to Hess. On the return day of the injunction it was dissolved.

A boint made by Lawyer Hammond was that the election of Hess was irregular because the certified roll of delegates was not presented. It was also set up that Hess had voted twice, once in person and once through his substitute, Heger Sherman, in another district, although Sherman lived at Mount Vernon. Lawyer Sherman lived at Mount Vernon. Lawyer Sherman in behalf of Hess said that the roll of the primary elections from the Police Commissioners was all that was required at the convention. It was urged that Sherman had the right to vote regardless of his residence, and that he had not voted in the place of Hess.

Counsel for Lemnel E. Quigz, who was made a party to the motion as the chairman of the Republican County Committee, said that his client had nothing to do in the case, as he had only named the person to call the convention to order, whose name was decided upon by the State Committee. The court reserved decision.

DEBRYANIZED BRYAN.

His Alleged "Free Silver to the Rear" Gratifies Danforth and Tammany.

The report that Col William Jennings Bryan had in an interview in Wichita, Kan, said that the trusts and imperialism would be the leading issues in the campaign this fall, and that the free silver issue would be subordinate to them was received with a good deal of satisfaction by the Tammany and Democratic managers here. They realize that they can't hope to do anything with free silver in the foreground, and have been hoping that something would come up to distract attention from it. Elliot Danforth, chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, said yesterday that he and the other leaders had been hoping all the time that Col. Bryan would "see that trusts and imperialism are paramount." Mr. Danforth says that the Democrats are going to carry New York anyway, however, but that the struggle will be much easier if free silver is eliminated from the campaign

TRIPLE HANGING.

Two White Men and a Negro Die on One Scaffold in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn , April 25 - The first triple hanging in the history of the State took place to-day at McMinnville. John Watson, Bill Brown and Sonnie Crain were put to death. Watson and Brown were white men and Crain was a negro. The hanging was witnessed by a hmited number of persons. Five thousand people congregated on the outside of the stockade. The condemned men bade farewell to relatives and friends shortly before they were led to the gallows. Watson declared that he was innocent, Brown would not make a statement and Crain said, he was prepared to die. Watson was hanged for the murder of James Hillis, Brown for complicity in the killing of his kife, and Crain for murdering John Brown.

PLANS OF THE ATLANTICS.

SEA GATE VACHTSMEN PREPARED FOR A LIVELY SEASON.

Several Special Trophies Offered by Commodore Banks and Former Commodores Adams and Weston-Year's Sport Will Hegin With the Races of Memorial Day.

Members of the Atlantic Yacht Club are lookng forward to a prosperous season. The club has, for several years, been growing fast. Its regattas have brought together the best racing yachts in commission, and the prizes have been exceptionally valuable. This year special efforts will be made to keep the racing fully up to the standard. Several special trophies will be given for the classes in which the most interesting races are to be expected. Commodore David Banks has offered to give prizes for races in classes that are to be selected shortly. Ex-Commodore Frederick T. Adams has given his usual cups which will be rated for during the season, and Former Rear Commodore Weston has said that he will give $1,000 for prizes. In addition to these trophies the club has made a handsome appropriation for the regular re-addition to these trophies the club has made a handsome appropriation for the regular regatus.

The racing season will open on Decoration Day with the customary ceremonles and the fleet will take part in races over the usual courses. The next racing will probably be on Saturday, Jene 0. It has been suggested that special races for the new 70-footers and other classes having new boats be arranged for this day, and the owners of some of these new yachts are said to be heartily in favor of the idea. On Monday, June 11, there will probably be more racing for special classes, and Tuesday, June 12, is the day set for the annual regatta. The day following may be devoted to racing for yachts in some of the smaller classes.

The cruise will begin on Saturday, July 7, at Riverside and on Sunday divine service will be held on board the flagship or one of the larger yachts, and the summer residents of Riverside, Greenwich and Belle Haven will be invited to attend. On Monday, July 9, the yachts will start to the eastward, visiting Morris Cove, New London, Sheiter Island and Newport, arriving at the latter port in time to witness the races of the New York Yacht Club, which are to be held on July 12, 13 and 14.

The House Committee of the club has been busy arranging for the opening of the season and members will find some changes calculated to make things very comforable for them during the summer. This year two boats will be run and an hourly service will be kept up all day long. The boats will stop at the Crescent A. C. landing at Bay Ridge and on the last trip up a boat will touch at Brooklyn for the convenience of members residing in that borough.

The yachts owned by members are being overhaused as fast as possible, and by the middle of next month there will be quite a fleet at anchor off the clubhouse. Major J. Fred Ackerman is having his newly purchased yacht. Vesta, overhaused at Port Jefferson. She will be painted white this year, and sport a new suit of sails. Ex-Commodore Adams's schooner Sachem is also at Port Jefferson, and will be in commission about May 15 Gen B M Whitlock's schooner Ramona is being overhaused and will be in commission early. Gen Whitlock has plans for a 110-foot sailing yacht, which he will build shortly for off-shore cruising. Robert E Tod has sold his schooner yacht Katrina to John B Ford. She is almost ready to go in commission. Mr. Tod will have the steamer Palos got ready as soon as possible. A Cary Smith has prepared plans for a big barkentine rizged yacht, 140 feet over all, which Mr. Tod will have built at once.

The portion that caved in was near the mouth of the sewer at Sunswick Creek, which runs inland from the East River at the foot of Broadway. The sewer was built under the Administration of Mayor Sanford by the General Improvement Commission and cost nearly $500,000. The brick work fell in and broke up into large pieces. The accident is credited to poor construction of the crib work. It is estimated that the crib work and wrecked sewer represent an outlay of about $9,000 and the entire work will have to be done over again. After the cave-in a big force of Italian laborers, horses and carts was set at work removing the debris. Recently a portion of the same section of the sewer fell in and it cost a large sum of money to repair the damage.

sessions are a Mexican parrot and about $1,500 worth of jewelry. Mrs. Bedie went shopping at 3 o'clock yeste day afternoon, taking with her most of her jewelry, but leaving her parrot behind. She had not been gone more than half an hour when Mrs. Prager, who lives on the other side of the hal, heard the parrot screeching at a great rate. "Hurry up! Hurry up! Hurry up!" the parrot kept shouting, and Mrs. Prager went out into the hall to see what was the matter with the bird. She got to her door just in time to see two men hurriedly leaving Mrs. Bedle's apartments. She was too frightened to try to stop them, but she ran to the front window and stuck out her head. She saw a man riding a bicycle in the street and hailed him. "Two thieves, who have been robbing the house, are coming down the stairs," she called out. "Stop them, please."

The bicyclist obligingly got off his wheel and grabbed one of the men when they came out of the front door. The other ran.

The prisoner said that he was. Harry Reed of 301 West Fifty-third street. He denied that he was a thief and the police could find nothing on him that had been taken from Mrs. Bedle's flat Mrs. Bedle's aid that the thieves had overlooked a diamond bracelet valued at $150 in their hurry to escape from the parrot, but they had secured a gold watch, a diamond studded chatelaine and a bracelet, of the aggregate value of $150. She identified Reed as a man who had broken into her rooms a year ago while she was asleep and who had threatened to kill her if she called for help.

DRIVERS AND RIDERS CONVENE. o Extend Operations the Recently Formed Organization Is Renamed.

Delegates of the Riders and Drivers' League met last night at the town chibhouse of the Parkway Driving Club on Fulton street near Bedford avenue, Brooklyn Dr H H Kane, who presided, explained that it was thought best to change the name to the Drivers and Riders' Association of the State of New York so as to interest the riders, drivers, automobilists, and all who are interested in good roads throughout the State and later to extend the plans of the organization by branch organizations all over the country. The proposal was unanimously adopted. The following committee was appointed: to consult with the riders and drivers of other States for good ron's and on national laws and legislation affecting horsemen. William M Clark of Brooklyn; W C Allen, Parkway Driving Club; George A Coleman, New York Road Drivers' Association, and Dr J C Miller of Staten Island

A Wonderful Sale of Men's Clothing

Half Prices for the Newest Spring Suits.

There is matchless interest for men in the Clothing Store to-day—the inauguration of a sale unparalleled in Brooklyn's history.

Brooklyn Advertisements.

This announcement means a great deal. Our Men's Clothing Store has been in existence only a few years, yet it has earned creditable renown among a multitude of well dressed men. We sell Men's Clothing at the same small margin of profit as we do every other commodity, hence the large development and continuous expansion of this branch of our business.

Forty thousand dollars' worth of the finest Suits

for Spring and Summer wearing are concerned in this transaction and not a suit is priced at more than half its actual value.

They were made by the leading and largest commercial tailors in the country—the best known name in Clothingdom marks each garment. There are no better ready-to-wear Suits than these, no matter where you go, no matter what you pay. American and foreign mixed cheviots, homespuns, worsted cheviots and fancy worsteds are the cloths. The patterns are favored ones of Spring. The styles are the popular single breasted sacks, superbly tailored in the newest fashions.

Such suits as these, half priced at the beginning of the season, will doubtless crowd the Clothing Store to-day, but extra salespeople have been engaged and with the Men's Tailoring Branch temporarily moved into the Men's Shoe Store adjoining, to gain additional space, every effort will be made for prompt and proper service.

There are suits enough here for all - your particular choice is sure to be among them.

We have divided the collection into four lots:

Athlete Bray to Compete at Paris

WILLIAMSTOWN, April 25 John Bray, cap-tain of the Williams College track team, will tain of the Williams College track team, will represent his college in the Olympian games at Paris this summer. He will sail on the New York on June 20 and will compete in the distance events of the English championship July 7. Besides entering the distance events at the Olympian games he will be a member of the international relay team, the other members being Orton, Creegan and Grant. Bray is one of the fastest half-milers in the colleges and ran second to Creegan in the intercollegiate championships last spring. He is also a prominent member of the New York A. C. team.

Stevens nearly suffered a defeat here at the hands of C. C. N. Y. yesterday afternoon at Hoboken. The New York College men put up what was for them a good game and the Stevens players a poor one. No goals were made during the first half, but after ten minutes of play in the second half, Adams, of C. C. N. Y. succeeded in landing a ball between the goal posts. It was not until the last three minutes of play the Stevens woke up and succeeded in shooting two goals. Fitch shot both of these. This was the final score: Stevens, 2, C. C. N. Y. J.
